The Fourth Annual Smokin' on the River Festival takes place on Friday and Saturday, June 15 and 16 on the Riverstage in Jeffersonville, IN. The headliner for Friday night is Josh Garrett (above left) from Gonzales, LA. Growing up in Louisiana, Garrett was exposed to Cajun, Zydeco and Blues music from an early age and his own music reflects that influence. He just released his third album entitled "String of Problems" last year. The headliner for Saturday is Teeny Tucker (above right) from Columbus, OH. Tucker is the daughter of blues singer-songwriter and pianist Tommy Tucker. Tucker has also produced three albums and has been nominated for several awards including BBMA Female Blues Artist of the Year. Other acts at the festival include Charlie Edmonds, The Tarnations Blues Band, Marilyn Kington & 2Loose, the PorkPie James Band, the Jimmy Davis Band, da Mudcats and the Snakehandlers Blues Band. We have nine acts entered in our band competition on Sunday, June 3 at Stevie Ray's. Thanks to the involvement of Four Roses Bourbon we will be able to give the winning band $1,500 to go along with the other prizes. This year's contestants include Broken Dreams, Dick and the Roadmasters (the 2009 KBS band contest winner), G. Miles and the Hit Men, the Gut Shot Blues Band, Johnny Roy and the RubTones, Lamont Gillispie & 100 Proof Blues, Over The Top, the River City Blues Band and The Tarnations. The contest starts at 4:00 pm.

Pen Bogart, musician with the 10th Street Blues Band and originator of the Blues Legacy Project, an oral history of the blues stored at the University of Louisville archives, will start broadcasting his blues radio show on WBRT 1320 AM in Bardstown, KY on June 7. Bourbon City Blues will be broadcast every Thursday from 1:00 to 3:00 pm and streamed live on the web at www.wbrtcountry.com.

The 2012 festival season comes on hot and heavy during the month of June. The Germantown-Schnitzelburg Festival returns for its third year on Friday and Saturday, June 1 and 2. This year's festival is a tribute to guitarist John Carby who passed away in December of last year. A portion of the proceeds will go to the American Cancer Society. That same weekend the Portland Festival takes place at 33rd and Portland featuring several bands including The Jaywalkers, The KingBees, the Yard Dogs and the Kings of Love. The W.C. Handy Blues and Barbecue Festival in Henderson, KY is the largest blues festival in the state and runs from June 9 through June 16. Some of the talent booked for this year's festival includes Sonny Landreth, Walter Trout, the Ruthie Foster Band, the Jimmy Hall Trio, Sugar Ray & the Bluetones and Mississippi Heat. Their website is www.handyblues.org. The Mary Ann Fisher Summer Concert Series in Russellville, KY starts on Friday, June 15 with Ronnie Baker Brooks. More info is available on-line at www.russellvilleblues.com. The series offers a new act each month through September. The Fourth Annual Smokin' on the River takes place Friday and Saturday, June 15 and 16. The headliners this year are Josh Garrett and Teeny Tucker. Check out their website at www.smokinontheriverbbq.com.

The Blues, Grooves and Spirits festival in Greensburg, IN is Saturday, June 16. The music starts at 2:00 pm and their website is www.gbusy.com. The BBC in St. Matthews is having a Blues, Brew and BBQ festival on Saturday, June 23 with a pig roast, barbecue competition and blues music. So far Big Poppa Stampley and the Dirty Church Revival are scheduled to appear. The BBC website is www.bbcbrew.com. The Riverfest at the Shady Glen Club in Prospect, KY is Friday and Saturday, June 29 and 30. Acts this year include the Logan Street Band, Wayne Young and the New Legends, Uncle Clyde's Hi-Fi and Soul, Inc. Find everything you need at www.riverfestlouisville.com. We end the month with the Crescent Hill Art and Music Festival on Saturday and Sunday, June 30 and July 1. The festival takes place on the Peterson-Dumesnil House grounds and features all types of music including blues. Big Poppa Stampley and The Jaywalkers are booked for this year. Their website is www.crescenthillartfair.com.

Other notable shows this month include the Cherokee Triangle Concert Series in Willow Park with King Sonic on Sunday, June 3 and the Joe DeBow Band on Sunday, June 10. Ronnie Baker Brooks always draws a crowd at Stevie Ray's and returns on Sunday, June 17. Local native Joan Osborne returns to our area on Saturday, June 23 with a show at the Kentucky Theatre in Lexington, KY. Tyrone Cotton and Stephen Couch take part in a CoffeeStop show at the Bardstown Road Presbyterian Church on Sunday, June 24. The Bart Walker Band, second place finishers at this year's International Blues Challenge will be at ZaZoo's on Friday, June 29 with Mr. Jimmy and the River City Blues Band. That same night singer-songwriter Paul Thorn is at Jim Porter's on Lexington Road.

Todd Webster, the manager at Stevie Ray's since 2006, recently left the bar to take a management position with the recently reopened Thunderdome and The Brewery. Stevie Ray's went through many changes under Todd. It went from being a blues only venue to offering all types of music. He started the Stevie Ray's Hall of Fame which benefited the Animal Care Society of Louisville and he continued to bring national blues acts to the bar. He saw Stevie Ray's through some rough times after the recession of 2008. I wish him well in his new endeavor. James Rushing is the new manager at Stevie Ray's. We wish him the best of luck and look forward to working with him. I hope the owners of the bar will strive to return Stevie Ray's to its rightful place as Louisville's premiere blues bar. And please, get the damn roof fixed. There is nothing more irritating than trying to dance on a floor with mop buckets scattered about the place.

Gary

Tyrone Cotton to Perform at Coffee Stop

During the first life of our Coffee Stop at Bardstown Road Presbyterian Church (1722 Bardstown Rd.), Tyrone Cotton performed several times with various accompanists. He returns again on Sunday, June 24, at 7PM with Stephen Couch. These two guitarists will play an eclectic mix of blues, rock, folk and pop. Besides being an accomplished musician, Tyrone sings in a deep brooding voice filled with emotion. His unique sound blurs the genre lines with original vocals.

Tyrone has been a mainstay on the local music scene for decades, performing at Kentucky Homefront and many festivals, plus opening for Johnny Winter and The Blind Boys of Alabama.

I invite all of you to attend and enjoy some good music, desserts and fair trade coffee, plus the camaraderie of good friends. Your $5 donation goes to HCM Family and Individual Assistance Program.

Jim Allchin
Overclocked
Sandy Key Music

This CD starts with a rocker, the title track whose title references a computer sped up beyond its intended speed. An appropriate song title for someone who has made his mark in the computer business with the likes of Bill Gates and for a song that is sped up beyond blues into the rock realm. Allchin is a great guitarist who plays some sticky licks on the CD that will catch your interest.

Allchin's vocals are probably the weakest point of this CD. Two of the thirteen songs are sung by Keely Whitney, a nice respite from Allchin's seemingly stretched- beyond-its-comfort-range-voice. "Fall" the sixth track on the CD, is a jazzy instrumental with a little Neal Schon vibe to it.

If you want to hear a guitar showcase CD, this one is for you. The songs themselves and vocals are not as memorable as the guitar riffs. If you like rock and/or guitar, pick up this CD.

Ursula George
I'm Drivin'
Tommytiger

Lori Urso's longtime love of the blues is so evident on her recent recording "I'm Drivin'" that it's a wonder she's not a household name. This CD, well recorded and featuring drummer Marty Richards (who also performs on piano here), can almost be described as "perfect." In fact, perhaps it's appropriate to go ahead and use the word. Multiple listens finds absolutely nothing amiss, and everything to like.

Urso and Richards, who perform under the band name "Ursula George" are fundamentally as solid as anyone can possibly get.

Produced by the pair, "I'm Drivin'" runs the gamut of blues from a few originals by Richards to covers of tunes by luminaries such as Sippie Wallace, Dave Alvin, Willie Dixon and Jimmy Reed. Urso, who provides sweet but sometimes rough vocals (which are at times channeled through an effects box) and rhythm, lead and slide guitar, has her blues fundamentals down pat; while Richards shows his versatility and performing experience on each and every song.

As noted, repertoire is varied. There's the old-time, "cabaret" sound of "A Man for Everyday in the Week," by Hersal Thomas; piano-based blues on Sippie Wallace's "You Got to Know How", to the funky, bonus-track mix of Dave Alvin's "Little Honey," (which is played straight on cut three). Her treatment of Willie Dixon's "You Need (a Whole Lotta) Love," which Led Zeppelin rocked in their heyday, is downright sexy. Urso's slide playing, done on Guild guitars and a 1934 Dobro, is sweet as honey and spot-on.

While there might not be much, if any, new ground broken here, what is done is executed to perfection. It's great listening. Urso's voice is positively addictive, Richards' drumming hypnotic, and their treatment of each tune is excellent. Highly recommended.
